Jimmy Rogers
(1935-1993)

When Owensboro Catholic High School opened its doors in the fall of 1951 Jimmy "Rog" Rogers quickly became the number one fan of the Aces' athletic teams. It was a natural fit - Jimmy Rogers and Catholic High.

Nobody knew Jimmy better than the late Harold "A.D." Mischel, longtime St. Joseph's and Catholic High basketball coach and athletic director.

Interviewed in a tribute to Jimmy on WVJS shortly after Rogers' death in 1993, Mischel spoke of his long association with Catholic athletics in Owensboro. "It started back in 1945 at St. Joseph's High School," said Mischel, "Jimmy was a neighbor, a close friend and part of the family." A.D. said Jimmy's first duties as a volunteer for the school's athletic teams included "anything you asked him to do!"

According to Mischel, Jimmy had no problem switching his allegiance to St. Frances when St. Joseph's and St. Frances were merged in 1948 and then to Catholic High when the school opened in 1951.

"When I retired in 1986 Jimmy was worried about who was going to take him to and from the ballgames as I had done for many years," Mischel recalled, "he was really relieved when Charlie Bickwermert took care of that."

Bickwermert, who sold tickets for local high school and Kentucky Wesleyan athletic events, remembers, "He was there at every game and was truly the Aces' number one fan. If we didn't win he'd sometimes get upset, but he never had any negative words about the players or coaches. He was just a true fan all the way."

An almost daily visitor to his beloved Catholic High, Jimmy died of a heart attack on the second level of the school's breezeway shortly before the start of homeroom period the morning of November 5, 1993. He was 58.

Said Mischel, "Jimmy had a full life. His death at Catholic High - it couldn't have been anyplace else!"
